“Altro differs from the rest of the floors in the market, mainly due to the comfort underfoot and sound reduction, fundamental in a restaurant. Aesthetically the result is spectacular.”

Palocortado

Málaga, Spain

The city of Málaga needed to update its gastronomic offerings, both at a local and culinary level. As a result, a business group undertook a venture of bringing back and capturing a style of cuisine and a few years ago the Palocortado restaurant was launched. The restaurant is a benchmark in the Andalusian city, maintaining the original values of Palocortado: offering the highest quality produce and food in a traditional kitchen with exceptional staging and service.

Radisson Blu Mannheim, Germany

The new four-star Radisson Blu Hotel, Mannheim brings international chic to the city. The 229 rooms and suites set standards in design and comfort while industrial design, high-quality natural materials and colour-accentuated accessories determine the stylish, puristic ambience. Over 7000m² of flooring was required for the guest rooms, hallways, conference area and restaurant.

“We are extremely satisfied with the customer service and will be happy to return to Altro in future projects”

English Spirit

Cornwall, UK

The English Spirit Distillery is a small batch distillery that produces some of the UK's finest spirits and liqueurs and consider themselves to be England's original small batch distillers. The main building was being converted into a cafe, shop and viewing area with the working distillery as a focal point.

“When I first came here it was a barn with a concrete floor. They told me what they wanted their result to be and straight away I knew that I wanted to work with Altro. We love their products and they have never failed us.”

Stuart Dawes, Managing Director
